

Welcome to Brisbane North PHN

Our vision is a community where good health is available to everyone.

We support clinicians and communities in Brisbane's northern suburbs, Moreton Bay Regional Council and parts of Somerset Regional Council. Our region covers approximately 4,100 km² of urban, regional and rural areas, with a population of over one million.

We are one of 31 Primary Health Networks across Australia.

We work with local communities, consumers, carers, health professionals, hospitals and community providers to understand our community and their needs. We then engage stakeholders to design and commission programs and services to meet those needs.

Programs and services

Coordinated care for older people improving the coordination, integration and provision of care services to support older people to help them stay healthy and at home

Better support for those with chronic and complex conditions supporting those with chronic and complex conditions across the care continuum

Closing the Gap in Indigenous health partnering with local Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Community Health Services to improve health outcomes for Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities

Mental health, suicide prevention and alcohol and other drug services improving the quality, coordination and integration of mental health, suicide prevention and alcohol and other drug services

Supporting frontline healthcare services delivering practice support, clinical pathways and education so that GPs and primary care providers are better placed to provide care to patients

Connecting communities to primary care connecting people experiencing disadvantage with primary healthcare services.
